ABOUT US

neoteric

adjective | (nee-oh-TAIR-ik)
new, advanced, modern

At Neoteric Innovations, we are facility experts. Our CEO's background as a master electrician, with fifteen years' experience in large-scale construction and facility management, sets the tone for the company. We value integrity, honesty, craftsmanship, and real-world experience. Curiosity drives us: we love to build, create, solve problems, and dig into the technical details others overlook. Together, we help deliver facilities with fewer surprises, lower operating costs, and longer lifecycles.

Our Vision

We bring together ideas and technology, rooted in field experience, to transform how facilities are designed, delivered, and operated to maximise their lifecycles.

Our Mission

We collaborate with owners, designers, and contractors to plan, build, and maintain resilient, sustainable facilities through expert advice, innovative products, and integrated systems.

Supporting Facility Stewardship

Church leaders are called to be good stewards of the temporal goods entrusted to them. Physical assets – including property, buildings, furnishings, and equipment – represent a significant investment and are essential to the life and mission of the church.

Caring for these assets requires the prudent use of financial resources. At Neoteric, we provide clear, practical recommendations that help church leaders make well-informed decisions – maximising asset lifecycles and reducing operating costs.

Great Projects Start with a Plan

Every successful initiative – big or small – starts with a clear vision and sound advice

Many aspects of church operations and administration involve planning work that extends beyond the regular experience of church leaders. Whether it's budgeting and multi-year financial planning, maintenance and capital improvement programs, policy and procedure development, feasibility assessments, or projects such as facility construction, renovations, or equipment upgrades — bringing in someone with relevant experience early on helps establish clear scope, manage expectations, and reduce the risk of costly changes or missteps later in the process.

At Neoteric, we act as a neutral intermediary between church leaders and external teams. We help align the priorities of pastors and finance councils with the work of designers, engineers, specialty consultants, suppliers, and contractors, while ensuring clear communication throughout the planning process. This helps protect the church's interests while keeping everyone aligned.

By providing clear, fact-based recommendations, we help bring clarity, reduce friction between different stakeholder groups, and support church leaders in making well-informed decisions with greater confidence.

Getting Things Done, Made Easier

We help churches turn decisions into results with less stress and lower risk.

Whether it's a major capital project or a smaller initiative, we bring practical expertise during the execution phase. We act as Owner's Representatives, working with engineers, designers, and contractors to ensure the church's vision is properly executed and its interests are protected. We also supply specialty products and systems when appropriate, helping churches get the right solutions without unnecessary costs.

Deliver Projects with Confidence

Whether you need full project oversight, or simply help sourcing specialty products – we scale our support to fit your project and your people

Full Project Oversight

We act as Owner's Representatives on capital projects, coordinating with engineers, designers, and contractors to ensure the church's vision is properly executed and its interests are protected throughout the build.

Small Projects

For initiatives that fall between day-to-day expenses and major capital work, we help define scope, manage suppliers, and keep the process clear and on track – without adding unnecessary complexity or cost.

Specialty Products

We supply lighting, audio system components, video projection systems, large format displays, and other specialty products. When your team has the capability to install, we provide the right equipment and practical guidance – giving you professional results with minimal expense.

Lighting Design & Supply

Church lighting presents unique challenges. Worship spaces need to feel calm and prayerful at some times, while being bright and uplifting at others. Architecture and artwork need to be subtly highlighted without distraction. Gathering spaces often require a mix of general and stage lighting, while offices, meeting rooms, kitchens, and other interior areas need practical, task-appropriate illumination. Exteriors must prioritise safety and security while making the building readily identifiable and welcoming. Whether the goal is subtle, indirect lighting that blends into the architecture, or distinctive fixtures that become part of the space, we design and supply complete lighting systems for any application.

Right Level of Support

We scale our support to match your needs, your people, and your budget – always with the goal of delivering the best possible outcome.

Facility & Project Management

A Legacy Worth Maintaining

Church facilities are built for generations. Over time, systems age, efficiency declines, and maintenance practices drift as volunteers change. We help churches assess facility condition, restore systems to proper operation, and implement modern solutions that lower operating costs and reduce risk. With the right support, an effective maintenance program ensures facilities continue serving the community well into the future.

Maximise Asset Lifecycle

From restoring facility systems, to improving comfort and reducing risk – we help deliver lower operating costs and fewer surprises for years to come

Full Facility Assessments

We provide a thorough facility review with fresh eyes and a meticulous approach. This helps identify critical issues, quick fixes, and opportunities for modernisation – giving church leaders a realistic view of facility health and a clear path forward.

Restoring System Performance

Over time, facility systems can stop performing as designed. Settings change, equipment is left offline, or maintenance is deferred – affecting comfort, efficiency, and asset lifecycle. We help identify where performance has drifted and what is needed to restore proper operation.

Efficiency and Modernisation

Older facilities frequently rely on systems and practices that have not kept pace with modern standards. We help churches implement improvements such as energy-efficient lighting, building automation, and updated maintenance practices that reduce operating costs and simplify building operation.

Smarter Maintenance

When staff, volunteers, or committees change, important facility knowledge is often lost. Asset management systems keep critical information accessible and provide a clear picture of facility health. We help churches put these tools to work – supporting data-driven decisions for resilient, sustainable facilities.

Ongoing Support

Most churches have people handling day-to-day maintenance and a committee to manage financial decisions, but rarely have a dedicated person responsible for overall facility performance. We work alongside local church teams and larger organisations, such as dioceses, to provide as-needed facility management services that strengthen oversight, reduce risk, and keep maintenance programs on track.
